"BRIDE OF THE AIR" DIES IN KANSAS CITY

HUERTA SENT VISITORS TO LIND, BELIEF

Yelaseco's federal troops trembling at Torreon, the only point they now hold in the north, it will not be long before the usurper, Huerta, will be swept away by public opinion. At first it was only our arms that brought us victories, but now the people of Mexico are convinced of the seriousness of the revolution. Our strength is growing daily. We are finding that popular approval is as effective as bullets.

"But we are not forgetting that bullets are still necessary. The fighting will continue. Our success at Ojinaga in pushing the federal division into the United States has had the effect of a tonic on our soldiers."

Torreon Victory Assured.
"I am convinced that the prospective battle near Torreon will knock another prop from under the tottering throne of Huerta. The federals are aware that they must put up a vigorous fight there or their cause is lost. Once again we go south of Torreon every city between us and Mexico City will fall. The people there have been kept in ignorance of the extent of the revolution, and when they see our great numbers they will join us, for in Mexico as elsewhere success is with the successful."

"The federals will not last long at Torreon. We are going to approach them with an army of 15,000, the largest revolutionary corps called together in this revolution. We shall bombard the federals with 30 cannon, 40 machine guns and hand grenades. It will be bitter for the federals to learn that they are being assaulted with weapons we captured from them at Ojinaga and elsewhere. Huerta little thought when he sent his troops northward that he was sending ammunition to us."

"We already are concentrating our troops north of Torreon. I will lead the assault. Gen. Toribio Ortega will be second in command. The attacking line will be reinforced by troops at Jimenez and other points along the railroad."

M'REYNOLDS HAS PLAN FOR OPERATION OF PRISONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—After months of study, Attorney General McReynolds has worked out plans for radical changes in the method of operating federal penitentiaries and in the handling of prisoners. Although details of the plan will not be announced for several days, it is understood that Mr. McReynolds contemplates the abolition of the system which allows convicts to be used in making articles for sale and put on the market. He is known to be opposed to the idea of convict labor.

The attorney general also has explained that he is not satisfied with the present parole law. Investigation of federal prisons which the attorney general has made has convinced him that there is little ground for the charges which frequently have been made that the penitentiaries are badly conducted and the prisoners harshly treated. His plans for improvement are directed at what he considers evils in the system for which the wardens and other officials are not primarily responsible. He also may incorporate in his program a suggestion for a probation law for the federal courts made by Warden Meyer of the Atlanta penitentiary.

WILSON LENDS SUPPORT ALASKAN RAILROAD BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Support came from the White house today for the Alaskan railroad bill which is to be voted on in the senate tomorrow. President Wilson told senators among his callers that he favored the project for opening up Alaska's resources and hoped the measure would be passed. The bill, introduced by Senator Chamberlain, would provide for the construction or lease of not more than 1,000 miles of railroad from the coast to the interior of Alaska at a cost of not to exceed $35,000,000. Its supporters asserted confidence tonight that it would pass the senate by a wide margin.

Senator Lippitt asserted today that the Morgan and Guggenheim interests neither had nor have contemplated monopoly of Alaska's present transportation facilities.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—When the Alaskan railway bill was taken up by the house today, Representative Dies of Texas made a point of no quorum. Speaker Clark, apparently with his mind on the Mexican situation, recognized "Mr. Dies," while the house roared with laughter.

The total coal supply of the world recently was estimated at 3,395,330,000 tons, of which nearly 4,000,000,000 tons are bituminous. Asia having the largest quantity of any continent.

JAPAN EXPRESSSES UTTER DISSATISFACTION WITH STANDING OF ALIEN LAND QUESTION

the president on April 15. In both interviews the ambassador reiterated that the Imperial government, having in view the honor of the nation, could not but attach great importance to the question, and asked the president and the secretary of state that more efforts be made to prevent the passage of the bill then pending. To this both the president and the secretary of state responded that they fully appreciated the wish of the Japanese government, and that although the fact that right to grant land ownership lay within the jurisdiction of the state, would make the solution of the situation difficult, the American government was determined to use all means at their command to bring about a solution. Both requested the ambassador to make the attitude of their government well understood to his government.

"On the eighteenth of April, the president directed the secretary of state to telegraph to the governor of California, advising him to change the terms of the bill and not to use the formula of 'eligibility to citizenship' for the purpose of drawing a distinction in the subject of enjoyment of rights. More telegrams followed this from the president and from the secretary of state to the governor."

Bryan's Trip Useless.

"In the meantime, the ambassador held several interviews with the secretary of state and endeavored to cause the contentment of the Imperial government to be fully appreciated by the American government and urged that no such enactment producing a discriminatory effect against Japanese should be passed. The president then decided to send the secretary of state to California and the latter reached the state capital on the twenty-eighth of April. He appeared in joint sessions of the two houses of the legislature to explain the request of the federal government and to present their suggestions. Despite all available efforts used by the secretary of state to make the legislation less objectionable, the governor and members of the legislature, who supported him, strictly adhered to the principle that the rights of the state must not be interfered with, and the bill finally was passed.

"Upon the passage of the land bill, the Imperial government instructed their ambassador to hand on the tenth day of May to the secretary of state their first protest. On the eleventh of May the secretary of state wired by order of the president to the governor of California, advising him of the receipt of the protest from the Japanese government, and expressed the willingness of the president to use his good offices through diplomatic means to bring about the desired solution of the alien land ownership problem."

"The governor telegraphed to the president pointing out the urgency which called for the legislation in question and expressing the opinion that the measure was not in violation of the treaty. He signed the bill on the nineteenth."

Protests Answered Immediately.

"Upon receipt of the information that the bill had become law, the secretary of state handed to Viscount Chinda a reply to the protest of the Imperial government. The reply recorded the fact that efforts had been made to the fullest extent by the United States government to prevent the legislation, expressing regret as to its final enactment, then went on to state emphatically that the enactment was purely the outcome of an economic question, and further gave counter arguments on points raised in our protest. But as the reply was not satisfactory to the Imperial government, the ambassador was instructed to address on the fourth of June a second communication to the secretary of state, an address to the reply discussing in detail the point concerning the violation of the treaty. On the sixteenth of June the secretary of state handed to Viscount Chinda the rejoinder in which counter arguments on points mentioned in the second communication of the Imperial government were given fully and in detail, and some suggestions were mentioned as to the remedial measures concerning the legislation.

"The Imperial government then prepared the third note of protest and caused the ambassador to present it on the eighteenth of August to the secretary of state, which note remains unanswered. The replies of the United States government were not found satisfactory, and the Imperial government has come to see the necessity of considering some other ways for solution of the question. However, to the regret of the government, the time has not arrived for reporting on the point."

Will Answer Third Note.

Although the address elicited no formal comment from the state department, the conditions under which the statement that Japan's last note remains unanswered was made, will, it is understood, serve to direct attention of the state department to this subject, from which it has been almost completely diverted for the last four months.

By mutual agreement the governments have kept from publication the details of the negotiations, but it has been understood here that the negotiations came to an end because the principals had arrived at an "impasse."

The last Japanese note, it is said, could not technically be described as a protest; it was a refusal to accept as convincing the argument laid down to the state department in support of its contention that the California legislation was not in derogation of Japanese rights, either under the existing treaty of trade and commerce or those which Japanese enjoy in common with other nationalities under the terms of international law.

As no way has been found out of this position under existing conventions, it is understood that the last Japanese proposition contemplated the making of a new treaty which might permanently settle the issue between the two countries by precisely defining the rights of Japanese in America and of Americans in Japan.

No suggestion concerning a new convention has come from either side, and officials here will not venture a prediction as to which of the governments will take the first step toward continuing, or reopening the negotiations.

FIRST DRAFTS OF ANTITRUST LEGISLATION BILLS WILL BE MADE PUBLIC IN FEW DAYS

supply any article without charge or below cost of production and distribution.

Other acts which may be laid down as violations of the Sherman law include spying upon the business of a competitor, securing information concerning his business through bribery of an agent, employee or a competitor and fixing an unreasonable high price upon some raw material required for producing a competitive article.

These definitions are under consideration for incorporation in the proposed Sherman law definitions but in equity in the Sherman law. The committee in connection with the feature of the trust legislation to make it possible for individuals to institute proceedings for relief when damaged by monopolists was as follows:

"Any person who shall be injured in his business or property, or shall be threatened with such injury by any other person or corporation by reason of anything forbidden or declared to be unlawful by this act may bring suit in equity in any district court of the United States in the district in which the defendant resides or is found to prevent and restrain violations of this act, and for other appropriate relief."

"Whenever suit has been instituted under section 4 of the Sherman law, any person who shall be injured in his business or property, or threatened with such injury, by the defendants in said suit, or any of them, by reason of anything forbidden or declared to be unlawful by this act may bring suit in equity in any district court of the United States in the district in which the defendant resides or is found to prevent and restrain violations of this act, and for other appropriate relief."

President Wilson frankly told the Democratic members of the interstate commerce committee tonight that in conferring heretofore only with the judiciary committee Democrats, he had acted through ignorance of the rules to the house. He laughingly said that he did not desire to "butt in" and had no intention of "throwing any monkey wrench into the machinery of the house."

The question of jurisdiction of the two committees, raised by the retirement of Mr. Wilson, was settled by a vote of the house. The committee on interstate commerce, referring to the interstate trade commission and control of stock bond issues to the interstate commerce commission after the judiciary committee had been working on bills along those lines, had created considerable interest and reports at the capital had it that the president was not pleased by this division of the work. The president told the committeemen that he did not intend to lead down the proposed bills with extreme legislation, but wanted them to be sufficiently strong to be effective; that he believed hearings were essential, and favored giving legitimate business interests the right to present any suggestions and to have full consideration. He said he hoped that the senate and house committees would work in cooperation on the measures, and he offered his own assistance whenever it might be desired.

The interstate commerce committee will await further action pending the introduction of the bills already prepared by the judiciary committee, and then will arrange hearings. Hearings also are contemplated by the judiciary committee.

RESIGNATION OF GEN. CHASE IS DEMANDED

to the committee for facts derogatory to the militia were regarded by them as injurious to that great body—the company—which practically controls, socially, financially and politically the destinies of men in that part of our state."

Chase Refused Aid.

Among witnesses not directly or personally interested in the strike were Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Stoughton, Mr. Cresto, Mr. Bolton, Mrs. Halpin (postmistress at Ludlow), Mr. Halston, Mr. Hendrick, Jr., Rev. Mr. Cook and Rev. Mr. McDonald. The report charges that, despite the governor's letter, General Chase refused to aid the committee in seeing militiamen personally connected with incidents in the strike zone under investigation and asserted "that we must in all cases get the militia point of view from him."

"That General Chase is laboring under a grave misapprehension as to his true functions in the strike zone was disclosed to us during this meeting. He spoke of justifying his total disregard of the constitution; he referred grandly to the honor of the soldier; and to the soldier's patient endurance of criticism. Some officers and men in other camps having a more correct conception of their duties are not ashamed to say that they are simply police men."

The report said this assumption by General Chase that they are soldiers

BREAKS A COLD OPENS NOSTRILS

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends severe colds or grippe in few hours

Your cold will break and all grippe misery end after taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and all passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves rich headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and sniffing! Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

Adv. engaged in war accounts for most of the errors of militia—errors which range all the way from pitiful, puerile blunders to the grossest atrocities."

Chase Is Real Dictator.

Continuing the report says: "There has been neither war, invasion nor insurrection. Much, however, has been done to incite striking miners to fight. The military district of Colorado has been established without legal authority. * * * and within this 'district' General Chase is dictator. So far as he is concerned the state's constitution and statutes are in abeyance."

"We had hardly reached Trinidad before we heard on all sides of the scandalous behavior of the militiamen in saloons, cafes, on the streets and in houses of ill repute. Three days after we began taking testimony a belated military order was issued that 'no saloon, bar, restaurant or other resort in the Trinidad district will be permitted to sell or offer to a soldier of the National guard of Colorado intoxicating beverages of any sort.'"

The testimony of Rev. James McDonald is cited as showing drunkenness and immorality on the part of some of the militiamen. The report comments as follows:

"The conduct of many of the men can be explained only by the fact that some companies have been recruited from the very scum of humanity, and have received as members former mine guards and private detectives who have their own special grudges against the miners."

Arrests Unwarranted.

Militiamen are accused of thefts, ranging from "a forced loan of 25 cents or whiskey for the captain to the downright robbery of $300."

Discussing the arrests made under martial law, the report says:

"The arrest of Zent and his detention without a charge against him, for over 40 days were sanctioned by General Chase, and there is no difference in principle between this arrest and detention and the cruel, cowardly, inhuman badgering by Boughton and the severe physical and mental tortures to which the prisoner was subjected while in prison. This case alone is enough to condemn, as utterly unfit for membership in the National guard and any and all persons who had any part in it."

The report continues: "At least one death of a man leaving a widow and two small children is directly attributable to an unwarranted arrest on no charge except that of carrying a gun and to undue exposure to cold for 25 days, during which time the prisoner's bed was the cement floor of the prison."

It is charged that the militia has attempted to persuade strikers to go back to work and a specific case is cited, in which it is alleged that a major offered to release an arrested union man if he would return to the mines.

Allows Shipment of Arms.

The practice of the militia of searching strikers' houses and tenements and confiscating arms is loudly condemned. In this connection the report says:

"Refrain from condemning as murderers the possessors of these arms, let the impartial General Chase explain why he has allowed shipments of arms in large quantities to be made to the militia. Why may mine superintendents equip with firearms mine guards and ex-soldiers of foreign armies and instruct them to shoot to kill? Is the constitutional right of everyone to keep and bear arms in defense of his home, person or property intended solely for the protection of the operators' property?"

It is charged that the military authorities have permitted the importation of strike breakers under false representations, in direct violation of the law. The report continues:

"Was it a mine guard or militiaman who shot through the heart an unknown strike breaker whom four militiamen carried out the day before Christmas from the Delagua mine? Was he trying to escape with the 48 others who were deported strike breakers who came out of the mine?"

Instances of alleged insults to women are given in the report. The deportation of "Mother" Mary Jones is condemned. The report concludes as follows:

"We should say in conclusion that our investigations satisfy us that there was no real need of ordering the militia into the southern Colorado strike district and that there is no need of retaining them there. The cruel, brutal, professional mine guards created and now maintain an appearance of need for the militia which has deceived those not actually on the ground."

Recommendations.

"As you asked for recommendations, we submit the following:

"First: That the resignation of John Chase as adjutant general of the Colorado National guard be requested by you as commander-in-chief and that if this resignation be not tendered, he be removed. Neither by temperament nor training is he fitted for this position and the accompanying record discloses a firmative cause for his removal."

"Second: That Boughton, Townsend and E. K. Lindfield be suspended immediately from duty and that they be discharged from the organized militia as soon as possible. There are doubtless others who should be subjected to the same treatment. We have not as yet fully investigated their record."

"Third: That all mine guards and private detectives of mining companies men I have known and worked for years in municipal and state affairs—Dr. John Grass, James H. Gausey, Allison Stocker, J. S. Temple and others of like standing—and I concurred in their suggestion that a settlement of the water question involving immediate municipal ownership of the water plant, if it could be arrived at, was desirable, from the standpoint of all the people of Denver."

E. P. COSTIGAN, IN OPEN LETTER, DECLARES THAT SHAFFER IS BLOCKING PROGRESSIVES

The history of those negotiations has been accurately written and published and need not be reviewed. In those conferences I at all times insisted that the Retail association's plan is a menace to Denver and its future growth and should be beaten at all hazards. I insisted that as an individual speaking only for himself and never for the Progressive party, I should not be a party to the submission on an election day of any plan to be discharged at once from the organized militia and that only men of good character who are citizens of Colorado or who are residents thereof and have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States be permitted to continue as members of the organized militia.

"Fourth: That all militiamen be specially instructed to prevent workmen being taken to the mines who have been brought into the state, or who have been brought from one place in the state to another in violation of the law of 1911, entitled 'An act prohibiting the use of deception,' etc., and that they be directed to perform their duty in taking from the mines those who have been hitherto employed and are now held in violation of the said law."

"Fifth: That steps be taken at the earliest practicable moment to alter the law and practice regarding the election of company officers, so that they shall not be elected by members of the companies for the present practice is subversive of proper discipline; and also that the power of electing recruits be taken from the commanding officers of companies and given to a recruiting board."

Start Habeas Corpus Action.

TRINIDAD, Jan. 21.—Habeas corpus proceedings in the cases of James T. Davis, marshal at Aguilar, Albert Hill, president and Robert McGuire, secretary of the Aguilar local of the United Mine Workers of America were instituted this morning in district court. The three men are held by the military authorities in connection with the burning of the postoffice and tipple at the Southwestern mine near Aguilar. A petition was also filed in the case of Antonio Lamont, an organizer of the miners union, arrested a few days ago for picketing.

The action was instituted by E. W. Clark, local counsel for the union following the presentation of a formal demand for the release of the four men upon General John Chase and Sheriff J. S. Grisham which was refused.

Four hundred striking coal miners marched through the streets of Trinidad this morning in the funeral procession of James T. Colvett, a striker who was killed by a train at Ludlow Sunday. Preparations for a mass meeting of strikers, their wives and children to be held here tomorrow are under way. The meeting is called to protest against the incarceration of "Mother" Jones.

There are 428 iron mines in the United States employing 55,170 persons and costing for operation and development $74,017,830.

The smoke nuisance costs the American people nearly $200,000,000 every year.

$11,000,000 Purchase Plan Turned Down.

So far as I know, the Water company considered but never accepted, to that suggestion. In my opinion, at one time it would have been entirely possible, if the Retail plan had been withdrawn, to have submitted a proposition to purchase the water plant in Denver for $11,000,000, with the practical backing of a substantially united Denver. That proposition the Water company rejected. At one time I personally would have been willing to have added to that price an adjudication of the company's claimed water rights, which I do not consider to be of any substantial value, but behind that movement we could not rally the same substantial portion of the citizens of Denver. The proposition was, therefore, abandoned, and not considering the water rights mentioned as having any substantial value, I thought then and ever since have thought the $11,000,000 offer not only fair but generous to the Water company. In the face of the well-known decision of the supreme court of the United States permitting the people of Denver either to build or buy.

Without entering on other and further details which could be easily and truthfully made of statements in your extraordinary speech, I will content myself with a final suggestion concerning the progressiveness of men who come to be a stranger from Chicago. In the brief time in which you have controlled the News and Times, you have shown constant and patent hostility to the principles and representatives of the Progressive party.

My position has been consistent and thoroughly understood and approved all the time by the majority of my friends and associates. An honest effort to settle the water question at once and forever has been dishonestly misrepresented by you and your papers, and your attack on me is particularly vicious in that it is likewise an assault on the splendid men and women associated with me in that endeavor.
